Atlanta City Councilmember Michael Julian Bond hosted a Textile Recycling Tour

ATLANTA – Atlanta City Councilmember Michael Julian Bond hosted a tour across the city of Atlanta at Recreation Centers talking with children at various summer camps around the city about the importance of recycling. Charity Recycling Service and CHaRM experts accompanied Councilman Bond on the tours. Councilman Bond and the experts talked with approximately 600 plus children about the importance of recycling during the month of July. Recycle Bins were on site at the locations listed below and will continue to remain for a period of time. The public will have the opportunity to drop-off Textile items such as:

- Old/worn or used fabrics/clothing
- Comforters and other bedding materials
- Curtains
- Towels
- Tennis shoes
